The best yet—according to Mr. Pierantozzi—as he shows off the scores of his star players to an enthusiastic Mr. Hatch and Father Chiavello.

Sister Agnes Isabel directs the orchestration of life at Sacred Heart High School. As principal, her sincerity and understanding set the melody of our everyday lives to the harmony of the life of the spirit. Interpreter of the theme of wisdom, fortitude, and knowledge, Sister creates the grand design of life's symphony under the patronage of the Divine Composer. With ears attuned to the future she plans the pattern for symphonies still in manuscript, yet rich in promise of accomplishment. Talented and faithful conductor, Sister Agnes Isabel takes her place before the orchestra and wields the baton so that many instruments are directed to perform as one. Under her guidance we as students grow into the players of the grand orchestration of life.

Freshmen

Watch boys! Don't let it get away. The oxygen just collected is being held prisoner by the senior boys intent on mastering the fundamentals of chemistry.

Purely man to man . . . Tony Pierantozzi, Camillo Giusti, Alan Cresta, Robert Mullen, Dennis Carluzzo and Peter Dyer chat with Father Fleming in an informal meeting between classes.

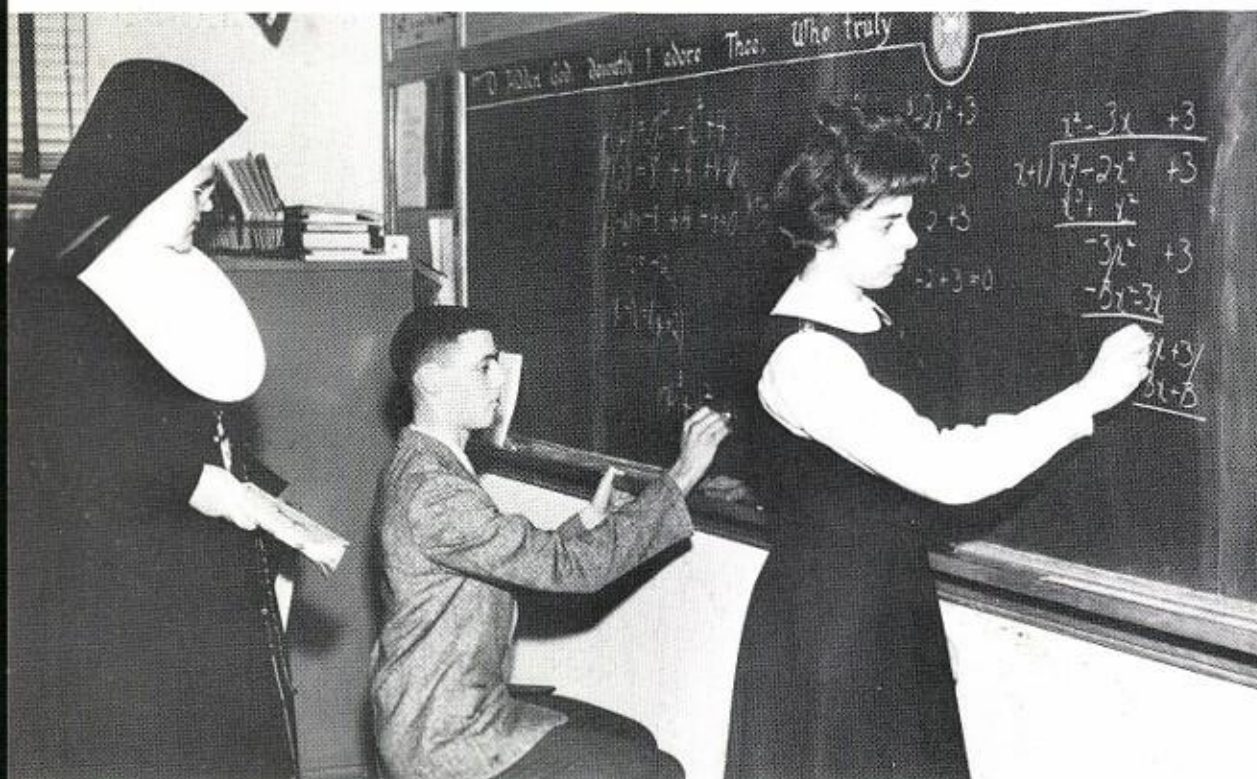

The Juniors are attentively listening to a few last-minute pointers before taking the National Merit Scholarship Test.

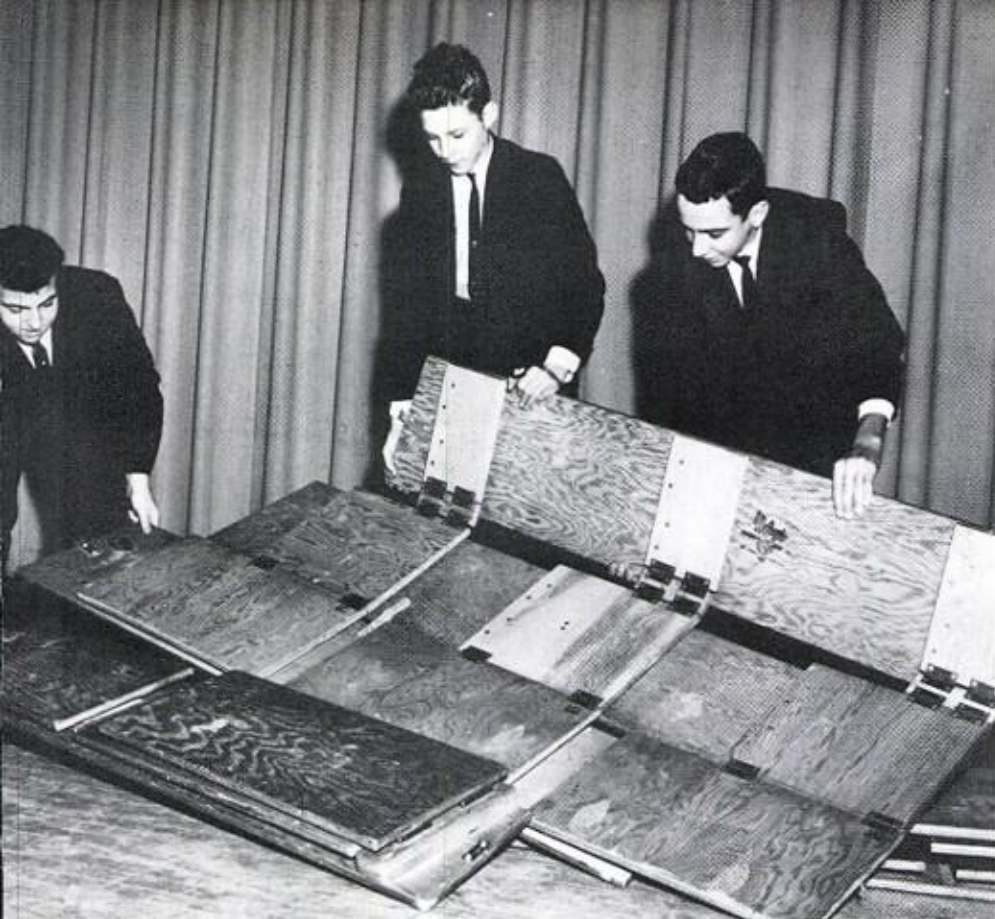

With ease and delight are the Sophomore Latin students comparing the method of warfare under Caesar with our modern age.

With the aid of the new Bioscope, Sister Grace Catharine demonstrates root hairs for Sharon DeSantis and Cathy Bogdanowicz.

This looks like an intellectual trio! Isaac Erickson and Kathleen Csere demonstrate to Sister Elizabeth Immaculate that Math III holds no fears for them.

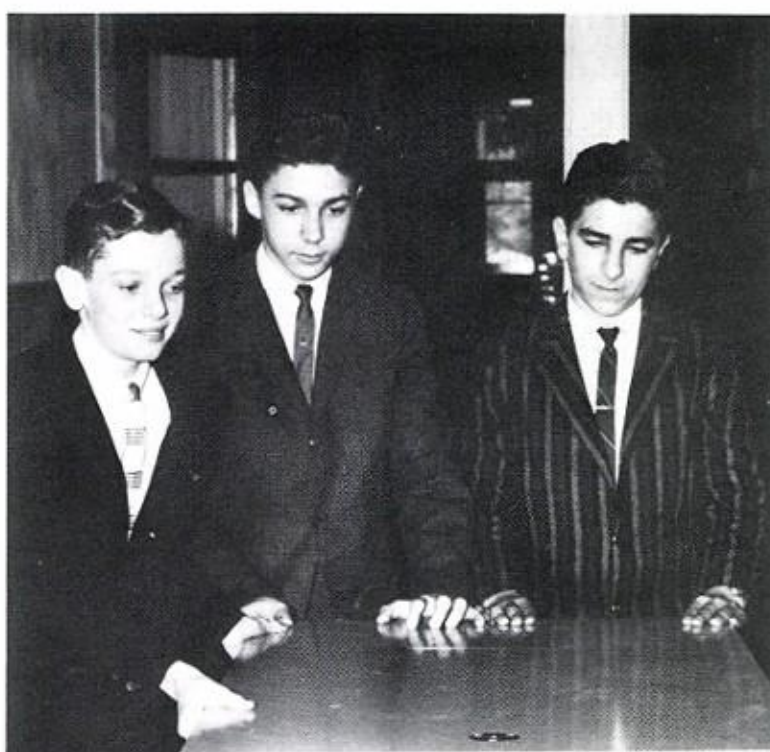

Anthony DiBuono, Marcel Durand, and Robert Gray do the all important job of setting up the risers for the annual performance of the Glee Club.

Are these future Picassos we see here in this Freshmen art class? Mary Dyer and Therese Ormsby still like to see what they are doing.

This may look like a college seminar, but don't be fooled; Sister Marie Celeste has apparently captured the interest of these freshmen who are studying the background of the Roman Empire.

The roll-o-lab is an important part of the General Science class. Paul Shannon, Richard Armellini, and Samuel Drogo prepare for class.

Father Cronin Cantlin, O.F.M., discusses the value of a well-spent retreat with Charles Caruso, Dennis Daly, and Fred Ushler.

These smiling altar boys unselfishly devote their time by assisting at the Sacrifice of the Mass and other liturgical functions. Front Row: Michael Zyla, Louis Fava, Jim Grucio, John Guicheteau, Richard Smith, William Errickson. Second Row: John O'Hara, Frank Martini, Ronald Farina, Dave Venturi, Tom Reilly, Dennis Tamagni. Back Row: Richard Guicheteau, Robert Farina, Ron Jost, Nick DeBello, Dave Giannascoli, Tom Marx.

Father Bertin Vessey, O.F.M., girls' retreat master, gives a new insight to the importance of the Catholic Faith in daily life to Catherine Naughton, Victoria Ingetta, and Nancy Butler.

BLENDS ITS MOOD . . .

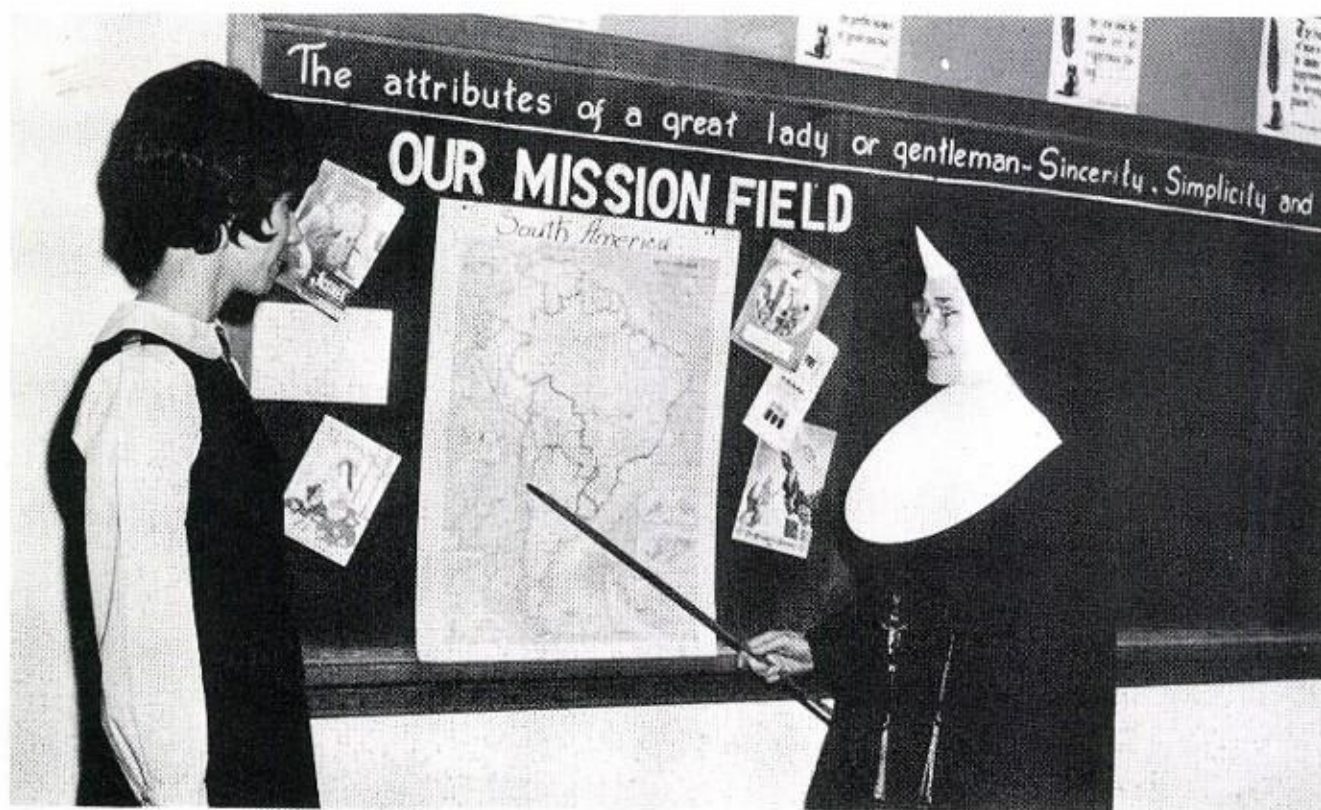

Father Reilly gives freely of his time to help students. Raymond Bruce and Barbara Stefano seek his advice.

Mission Moderators for the homeroom sections are Carol Marcacci, Carol Von Lohoffel, Maureen Blasko, George Spagnola, Jacqueline Boisvert, Vito Paladino, James Larro, Camillo Giusti, Francine Del Rossi, and Barbara Marcacci.

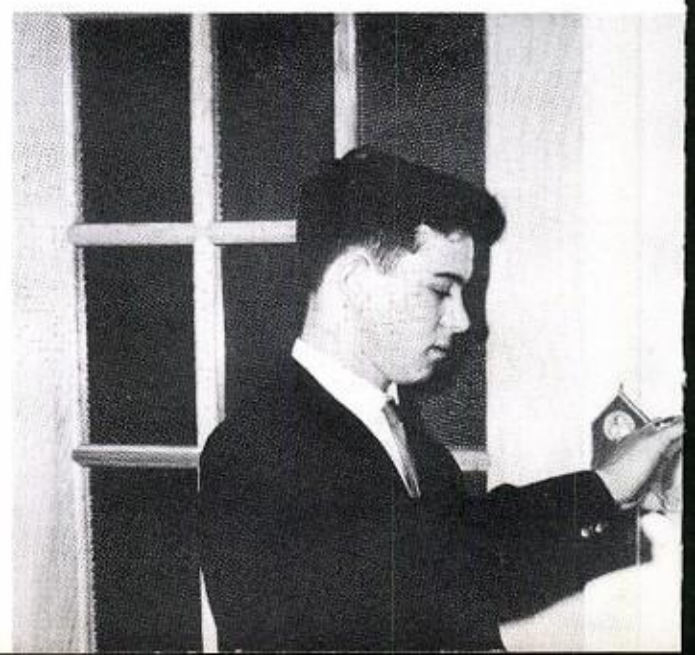

Barbara Sartori and Anna Giusti pay tribute to Our Lady during the month of May.

Sister Catherine Joseph points out to Francine Del Rossi the mission fields assisted by the sacrifices of Sacred Heart students.

We wonder how many indulgences have been gained by the faithfulness of Anthony Confalone who fills the holy water fonts daily.

WITH THE LARGO RELIGIOSO . . .

Voice of Democracy contestants, Vincent Greico, winner, Ameline Morin, first runner up, and Margaret Moran, second runner up, discuss the beginnings of American freedom.

... AND THE VIVACE TEMPO ...

"We never make mistakes!" Marie Zachar and Pat Simoni, typists, scour yearbook manuscripts for mistakes.

Preparing heads proved an interesting development to Ameline Morin. Here she processes the result of her labor with Sister Edward Benedict.

Will we look that funny twenty years from now? Kenneth Volpe, Patricia Simoni, Marie Zachar, Sharon Dauito, Sandra Fiocchi, Agostino Fabietti and Ameline Morin find the early copies of Vine Leaves quite amusing.

The Vinelandia staff at one of their busy Monday afternoon meetings proofread material for the next issue of the paper.

Margaret Moran, Editor, and Sister M. Cornelius examine the latest issue of Vinelandia. They seem justly pleased with the results of their labor.

Page editors Lucille Koehler, Ameline Morin, Mary Ann Genova and Roseanne Rosa approve Barbara Rizzo's suggestions for page planning.

The students' choice! We proudly present our 1962-1963 student government.

Homeroom secretaries for each section are Eleanor Koerner, Linda Ruth, Joyce Egizi, Rosalind Genova, Sharon Lyn Dauito, Mary Lou Dyer, Michael Fiocchi, Egon Von Lolhoffel, Lois Zappariello, and Gayle Sasdelli.

. . . OF THE COMPOSER'S PLAN . . .

Treasurers of the class sections include Mary Fitzgerald, Ameline Morin, Rita Badame, Jane Desotti, Sharon Haas, Karen Giannascola, Anthony Pierantozzi, Catherine Stadler, Peter Dyer, and Carol Ogren.

Monsignor Argullo awards class officer badges to Vincent Greico, Charles Gabage, and Robert Squillace.

Sister Agnes Isabel, Sacred Heart High School principal, and Mother Miriam Regina, principal of Sacred Heart Grade School, discuss the National Educational Development Tests as a means of better coordination between the elementary and secondary schools.

TO WORK OUT . . .

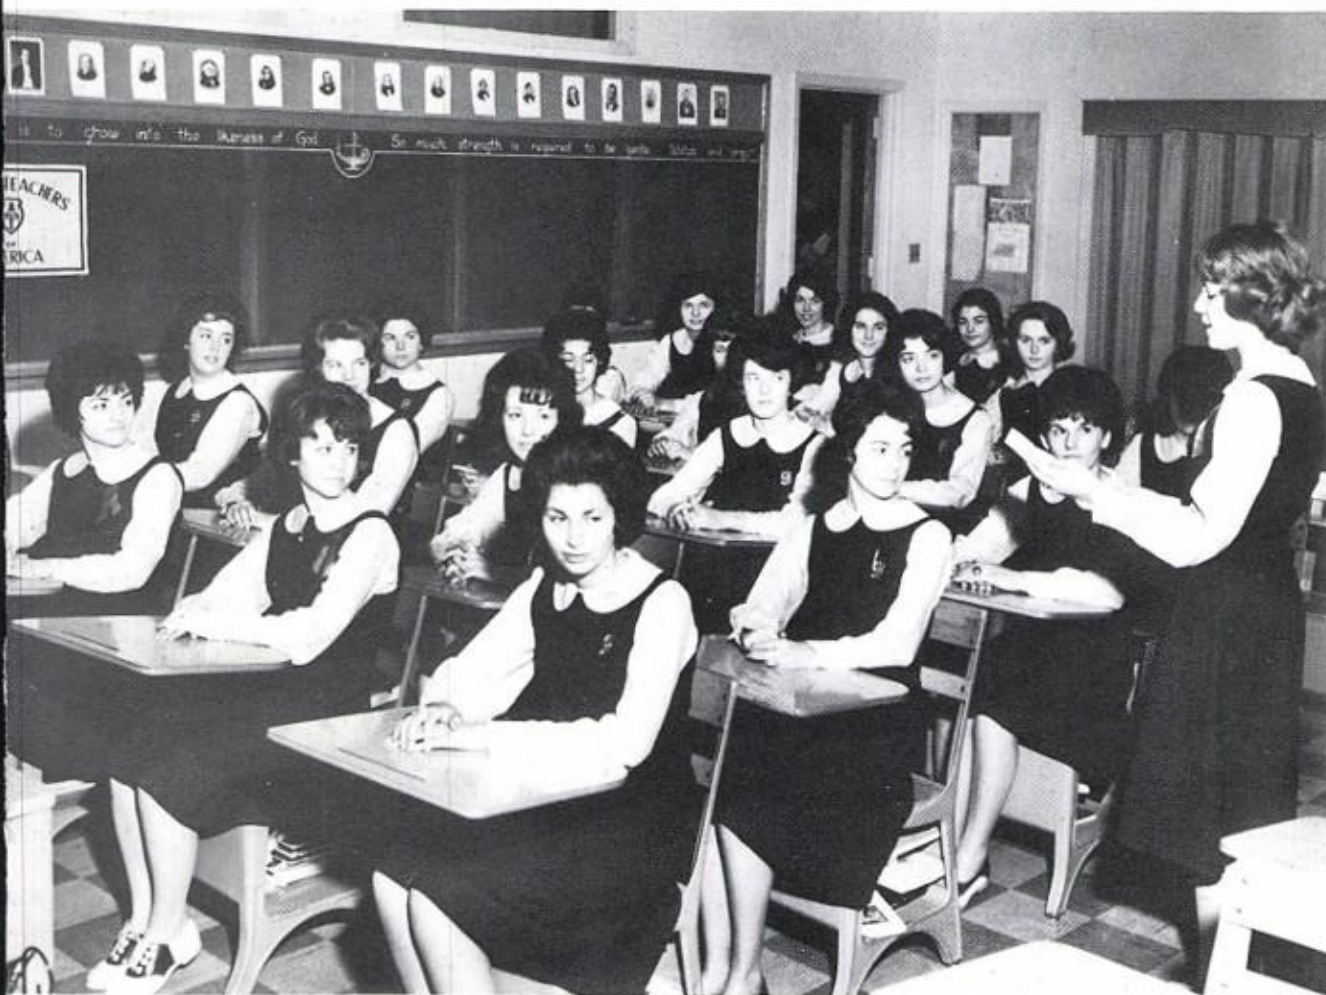

Reconstructing the Arc de Triumphe is a grande affaire for members of the French Club: Ronald Vinick, Dennis Carluzzo, Peter Dyer, Robert Mullin, Tony Pierantozzi, and John Burton.

. . . and probably the most extensive activity in the school is carried on right in this little spot. Camille Stringari and Ronald Farina are lucky enough to have the line.

The satisfaction of doing things for others is reflected in the faces of these members of the High School Red Cross Conference. Here Mrs. Edward Morin, High School Red Cross director, points out the steps of the next project to Paulette Fava, Mary Ann Genova, Ameline Morin and Maureen Ormsby.

Elayne Hughes' letter must be very interesting according to the attentive faces of the Future Teachers of America.

THE THEME . . .

The annual Villanova Press Conference attracts SHHS's journalistic-minded. Arriving on campus, visitors pause momentarily for a picture before planning the day's program.

Pitfalls to be overcome in good photography are discussed by Mr. Bernard Lamberti, Kenneth Volpe, and Agostino Fabietti.

... OF MELODY AND HARMONY ...

The halls reverberate with the tones of the Boys' Glee Club as they follow the instructions of their director.

Janet Witz, Joseph Olivio, Jacqueline Boisvert, Elayne Hughes, Mary Ann Genova, and Vincent Greico rehearse their roles for "Oklahoma." Sister Ann Winifred directs and accompanies at the piano.

Sopranos and altos blend in harmony at rehearsal of the Girls' Glee Club for the annual Glee Club recital. Sister Ann Winifred coaches from the rear.

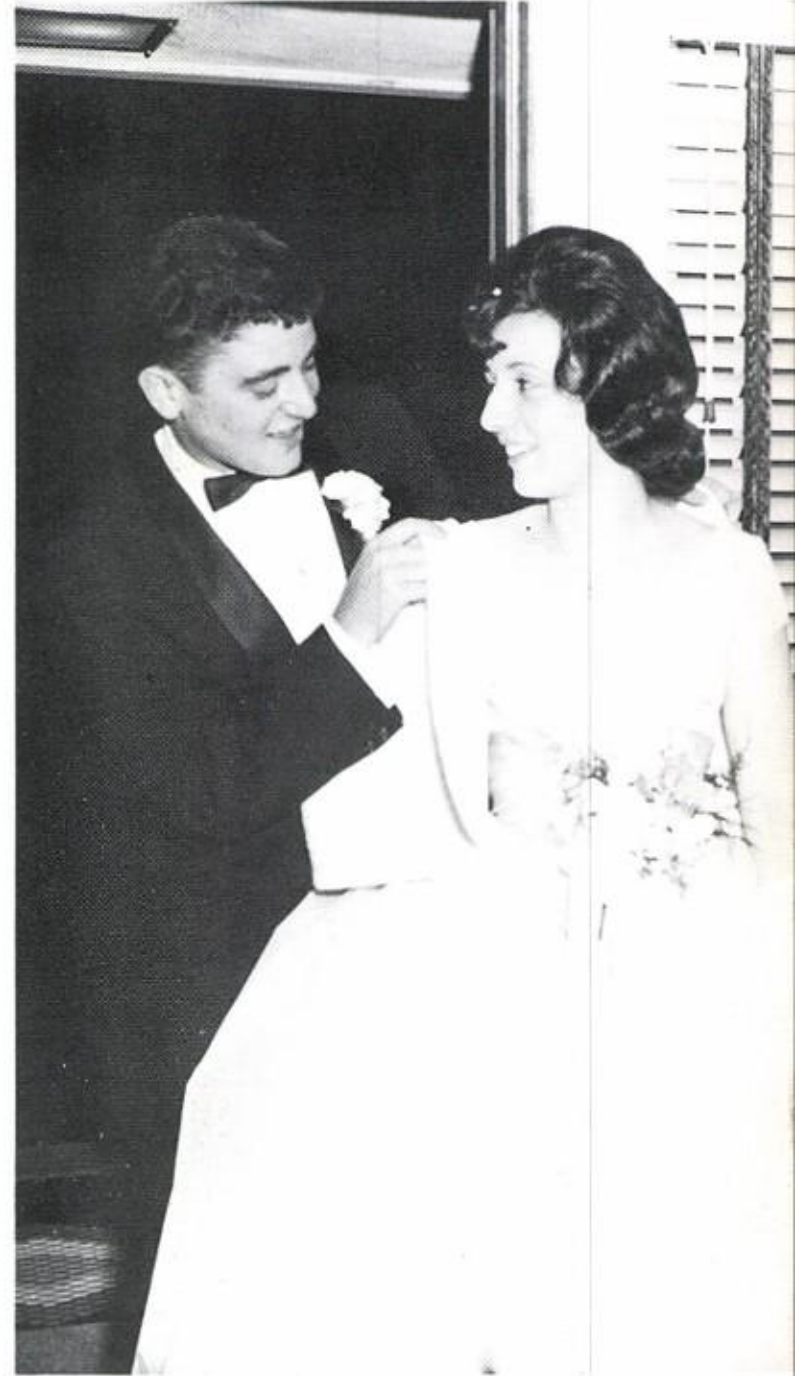

The brilliance of the affair dazzles Allen Gardenghi and Margaret Moran as they arrive at the Junior Prom.

... BY GRACEFUL MOVEMENT ...

Ronald Farina looks as if he can't decide which is more beautiful—the corsage or Andrea Gardella's "Mona Lisa" smile!

Vincent Greico assists Mary Maggioncalda with her wrap as they anticipate a fun-filled evening.

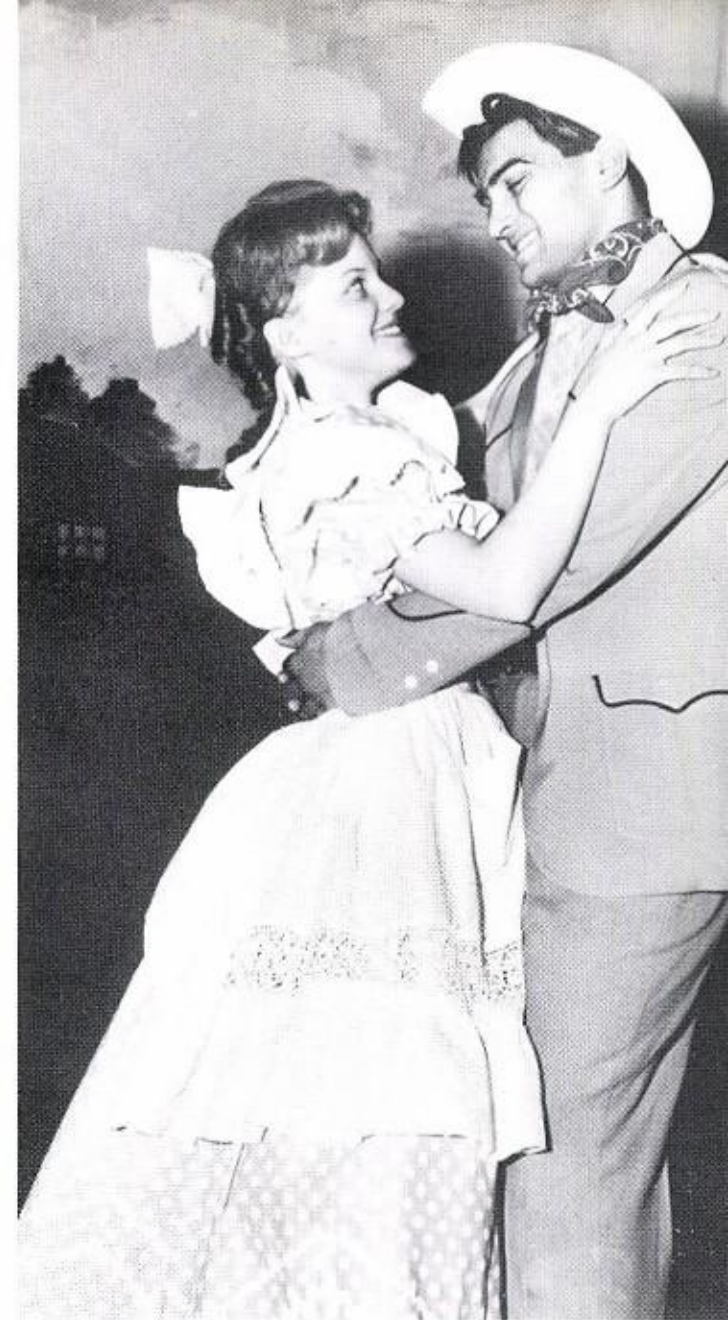

"May I have this dance?" asks Agostino Fabietti. Mary Ann Genova gladly accepts.

"OKLAHOMA"

"Oh! What a beautiful mornin'," sings Curly (Ronald Vinick) to Laurey (Elayne Hughes) in the opening scene of "Oklahoma."

"It must be all er nothin'," according to the theory, but in practice somebody here is being cheated. Will Parker (Joseph Olivio) hankers after Ado Annie (Jacqueline Boisvert), but two pretty flirts, Geraldine Machine and Laura Cannavo, seem mighty distracting.

"Gotta good gun there, Jud," says Curly. "Whatcha use it for?" Suddenly pointing it into Curly's startled face, Jud responds, "To shoot things!"

the most wonderful partner a guy ever had from Dave*

"Don't sell your saddle, Curly," plead his friends. But no price is too high to bid for Laury's lunch hamper, and the spirited auction continues.

... AND MUSICAL QUALITY

Choreographers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tessieri, brief ballet dancer, Marie Annarilli, on a few last-minute fine points as she prepares to assume her role as the dream Laury.

"Where did you get such a fine hat, Andrew?" Dennis Carluzzo and Nancy Riillo take a real shine to this classy cowboy hat.

"You're doing fine, Oklahoma! Oklahoma, O.K.," sing these choristers, and the melody resounds throughout the 'territory.'

As the whole countryside prepares to celebrate Laury and Curly's wedding, Jud returns. "Gotta present for ye, Curly," and the fight is on!

Stage Manager, Agostino Fabietti, and his assistant, Robert Davis, test an inter-com system designed by electrician, Michael Zyla, to check sound and lighting arrangements. Sister Ann Winifred plays scores from "Oklahoma" in order to complete the test.

Opinions vary regarding who has the most fun preparing for a play, but these stage hands agree that they had lots of fun. Around the outside of the trusty ladder are David Kelleher, Ernest Mascara, Camillo Giusti, Vincent Dastolfo, and Robert Audette. Beneath are Michael Herman, David Morin, and Richard Smith.

"Open the curtain quickly after the blackout," directs Peter Bonasto to Anthony Maruffi.

"Sounds good to us!" Michael Zyle, George Risi, and Nicholas DeBello, technicians, listen to the tape they have just recorded during the dress rehearsal.

"And at this spot you must be very alert!" Sister Miriam instructs script girls, Mary Beth DeBello and Josephine Maruffi, as June Lindenlaud and Linda Ruth make a mental note of the necessary props.

Probably one of the happiest days of Junior year was the day that class rings were blessed and distributed. It is with real pride that these juniors admire one another's rings.

WELCOME TO THE FRESHMEN

"Now you just behave yourself and don't make a sound," nurse Joan Dawson admonishes the young fry, Brenda Franceschi, Sandra Fiocchi, Mary Ellen Scardone, and Maria Girone. Nurse Barbara Farrell seems somewhat kinder.

This "freshman," Carol Chalow, appears to be afraid that she will be mistreated by these Senior nurses. Phil Boyle is analyzing the patient while Mary Ann Genova and Ameline Morin try to reassure this Latin-shy freshman.

CATHOLIC EDUCATION WEEK

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Dyer and Sister Agnes Isabel anticipate an interesting and rewarding program presented by the students during American Education Week.

Smiles all around—almost—as these parents of seniors receive the first report of the year. Mr. Augustus Genova, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hennessy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meinert, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Koehler, and Mrs. Helen Dawson examine the results of the first marking period.

Mrs. Nazareno Santomo and Mrs. Rudolph Favretto visit school for a teacher interview during the first open house.

Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. Joseph Yocovelli, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pendola, and Mrs. Joseph Annarilli leave the senior classroom after receiving their daughters' reports.

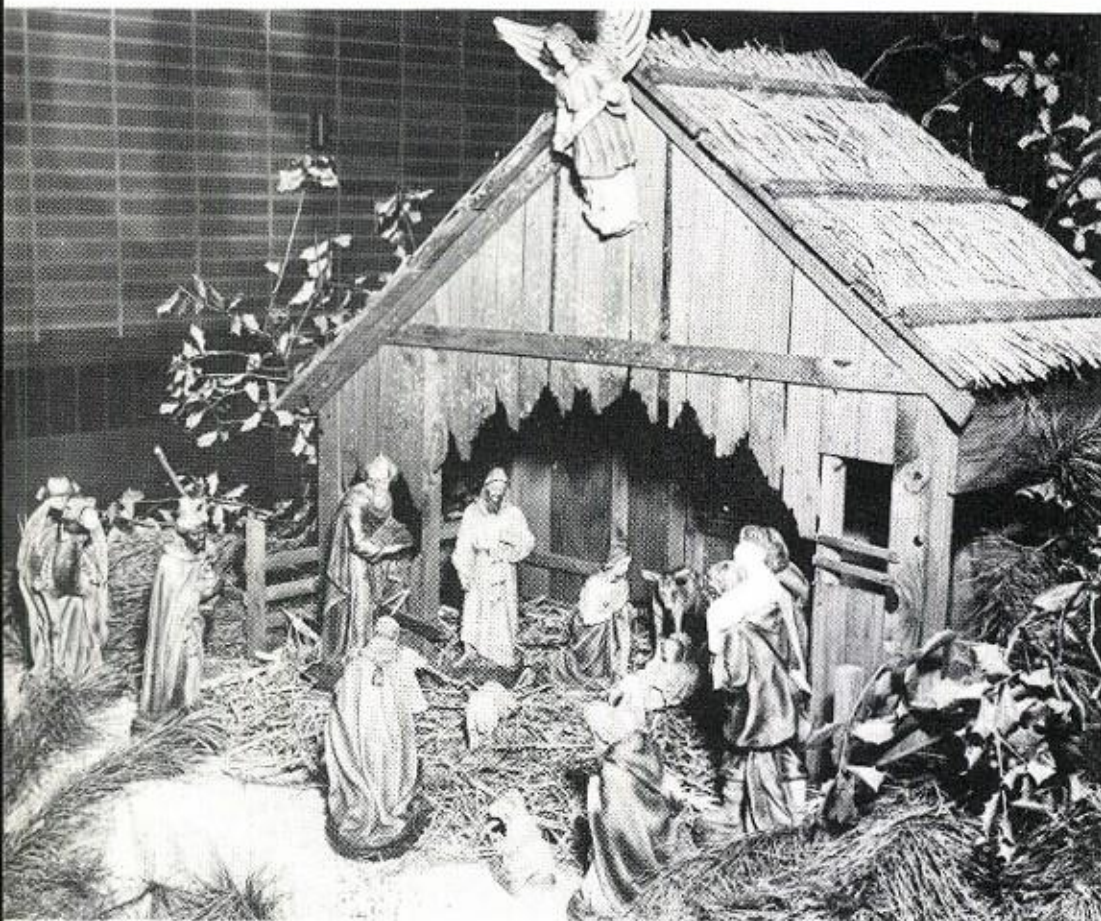

OPEN HOUSE

Serious business this . . . Examining reports of two 1964 seniors are the parents of John Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Burton and Mrs. Albert Maccari, mother of Frank.

Will that ball really bounce? Louis Fava seems to think so. However, Ernest Crescenzi, Vincent Dastolfo, and Fred Gerle find a more serious nature to trimming the tree.

The true joy of Christmas can be found only in the angels' peace and warmth of our manger scene. The crib which is erected annually in the foyer of our school is a daily reminder to all our students that here only can they find that peace and joy.

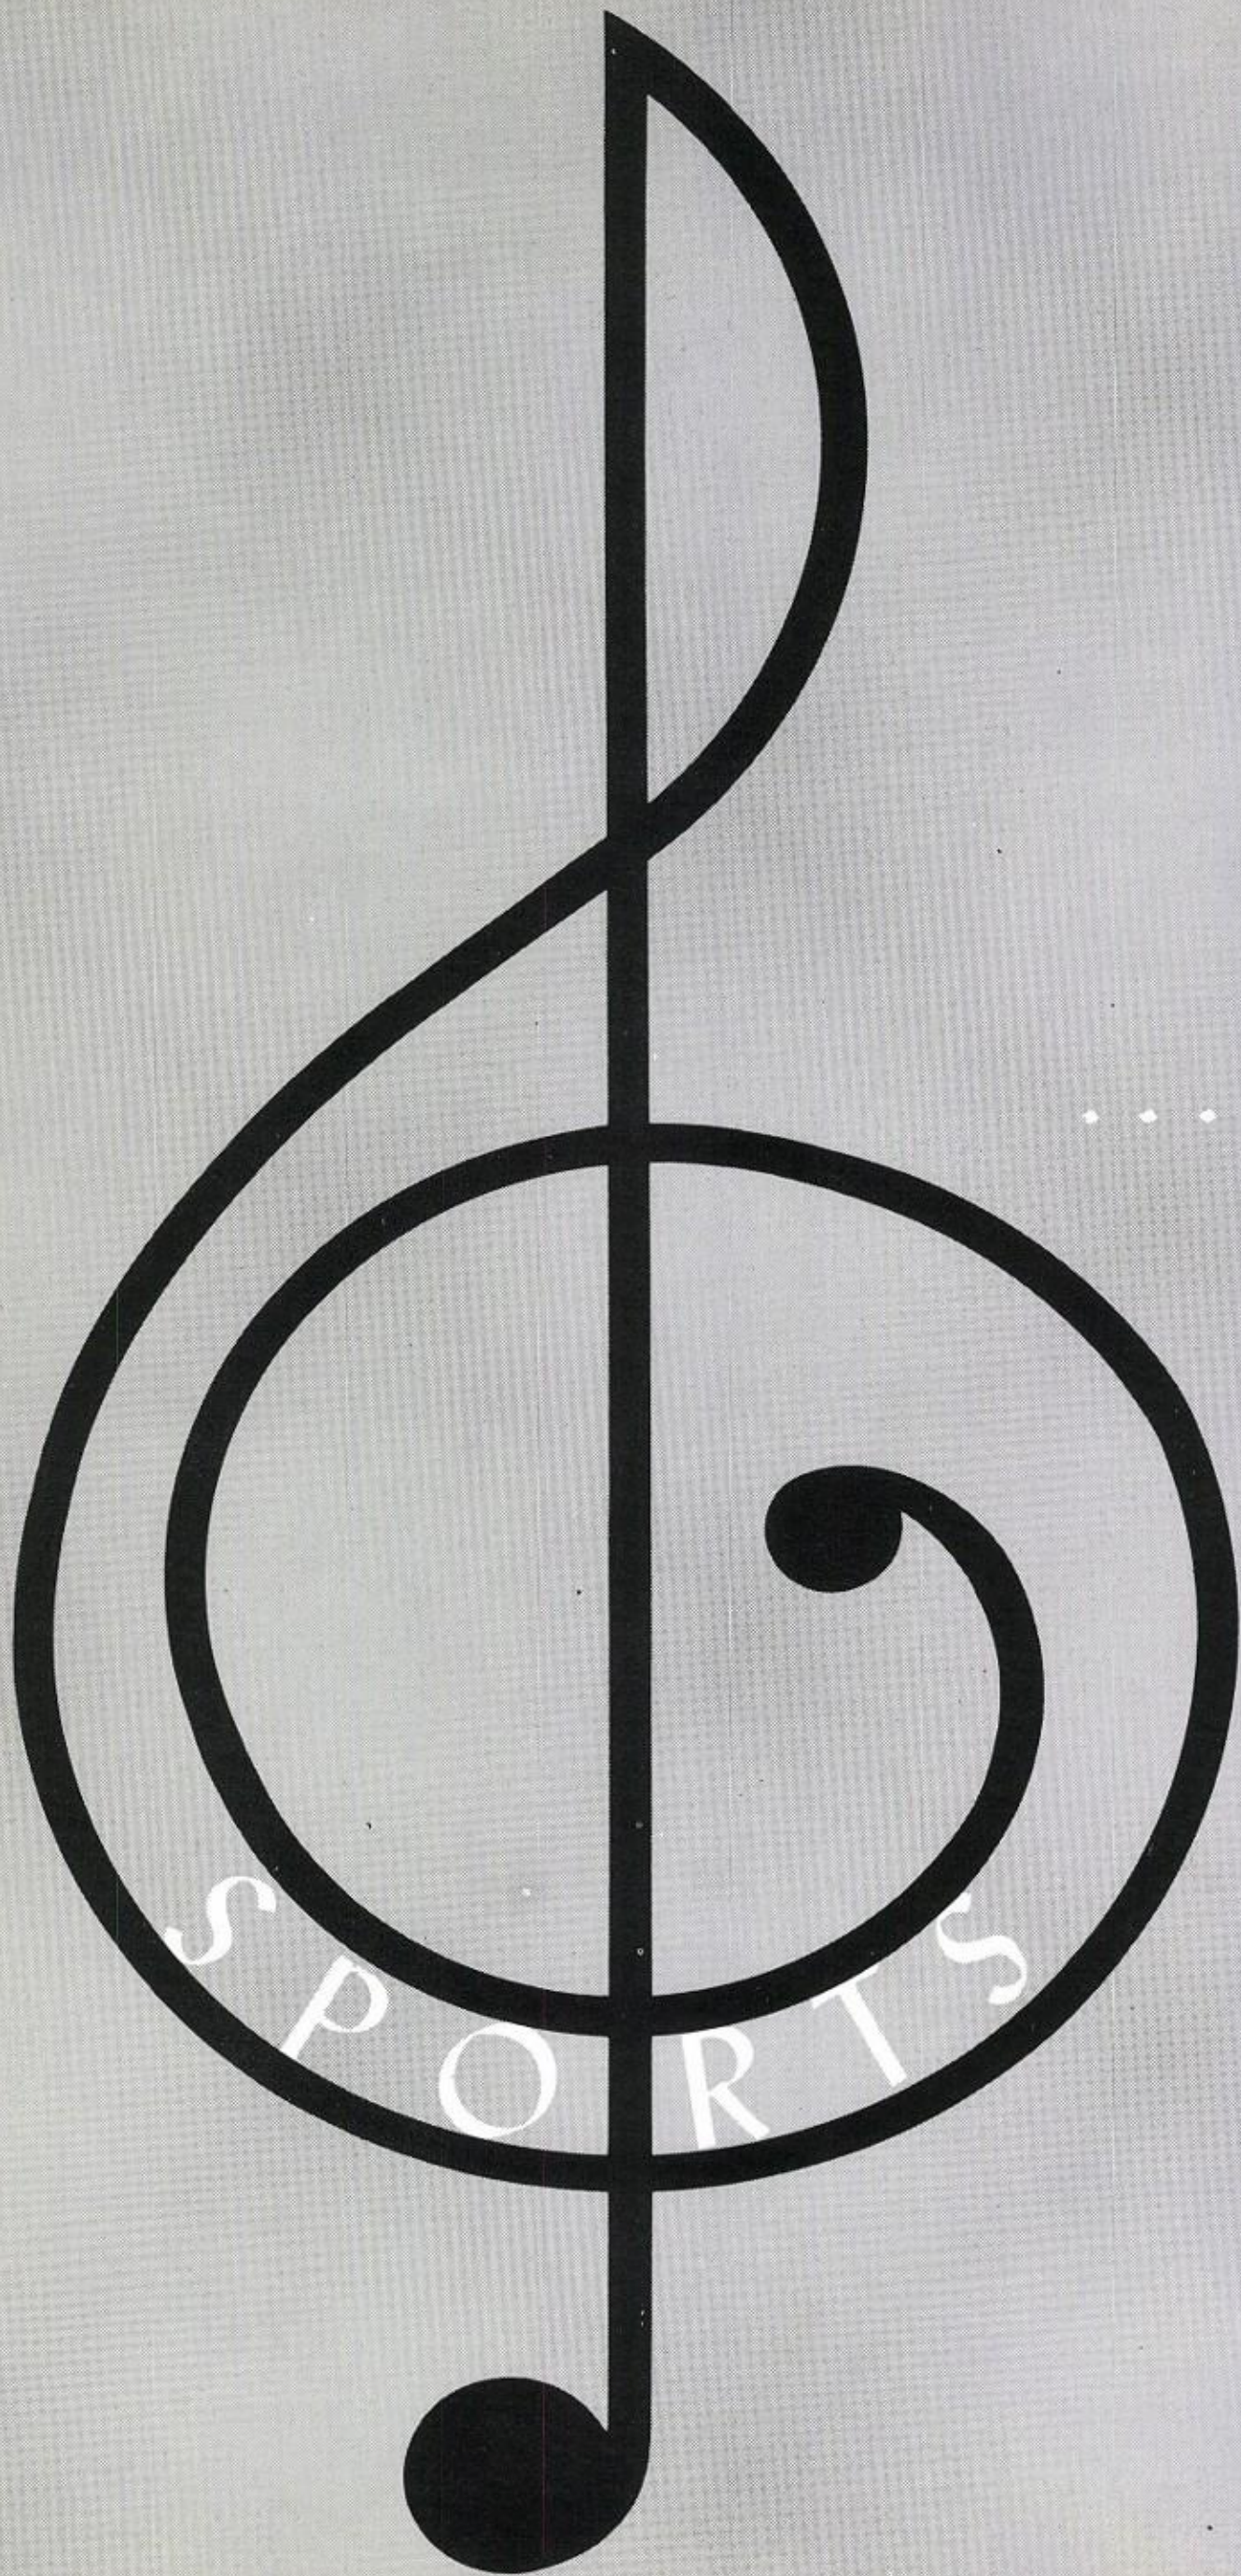

The true spirit of Christmas is depicted here as John Burton and Paulette Fava usher in the third week of Advent.

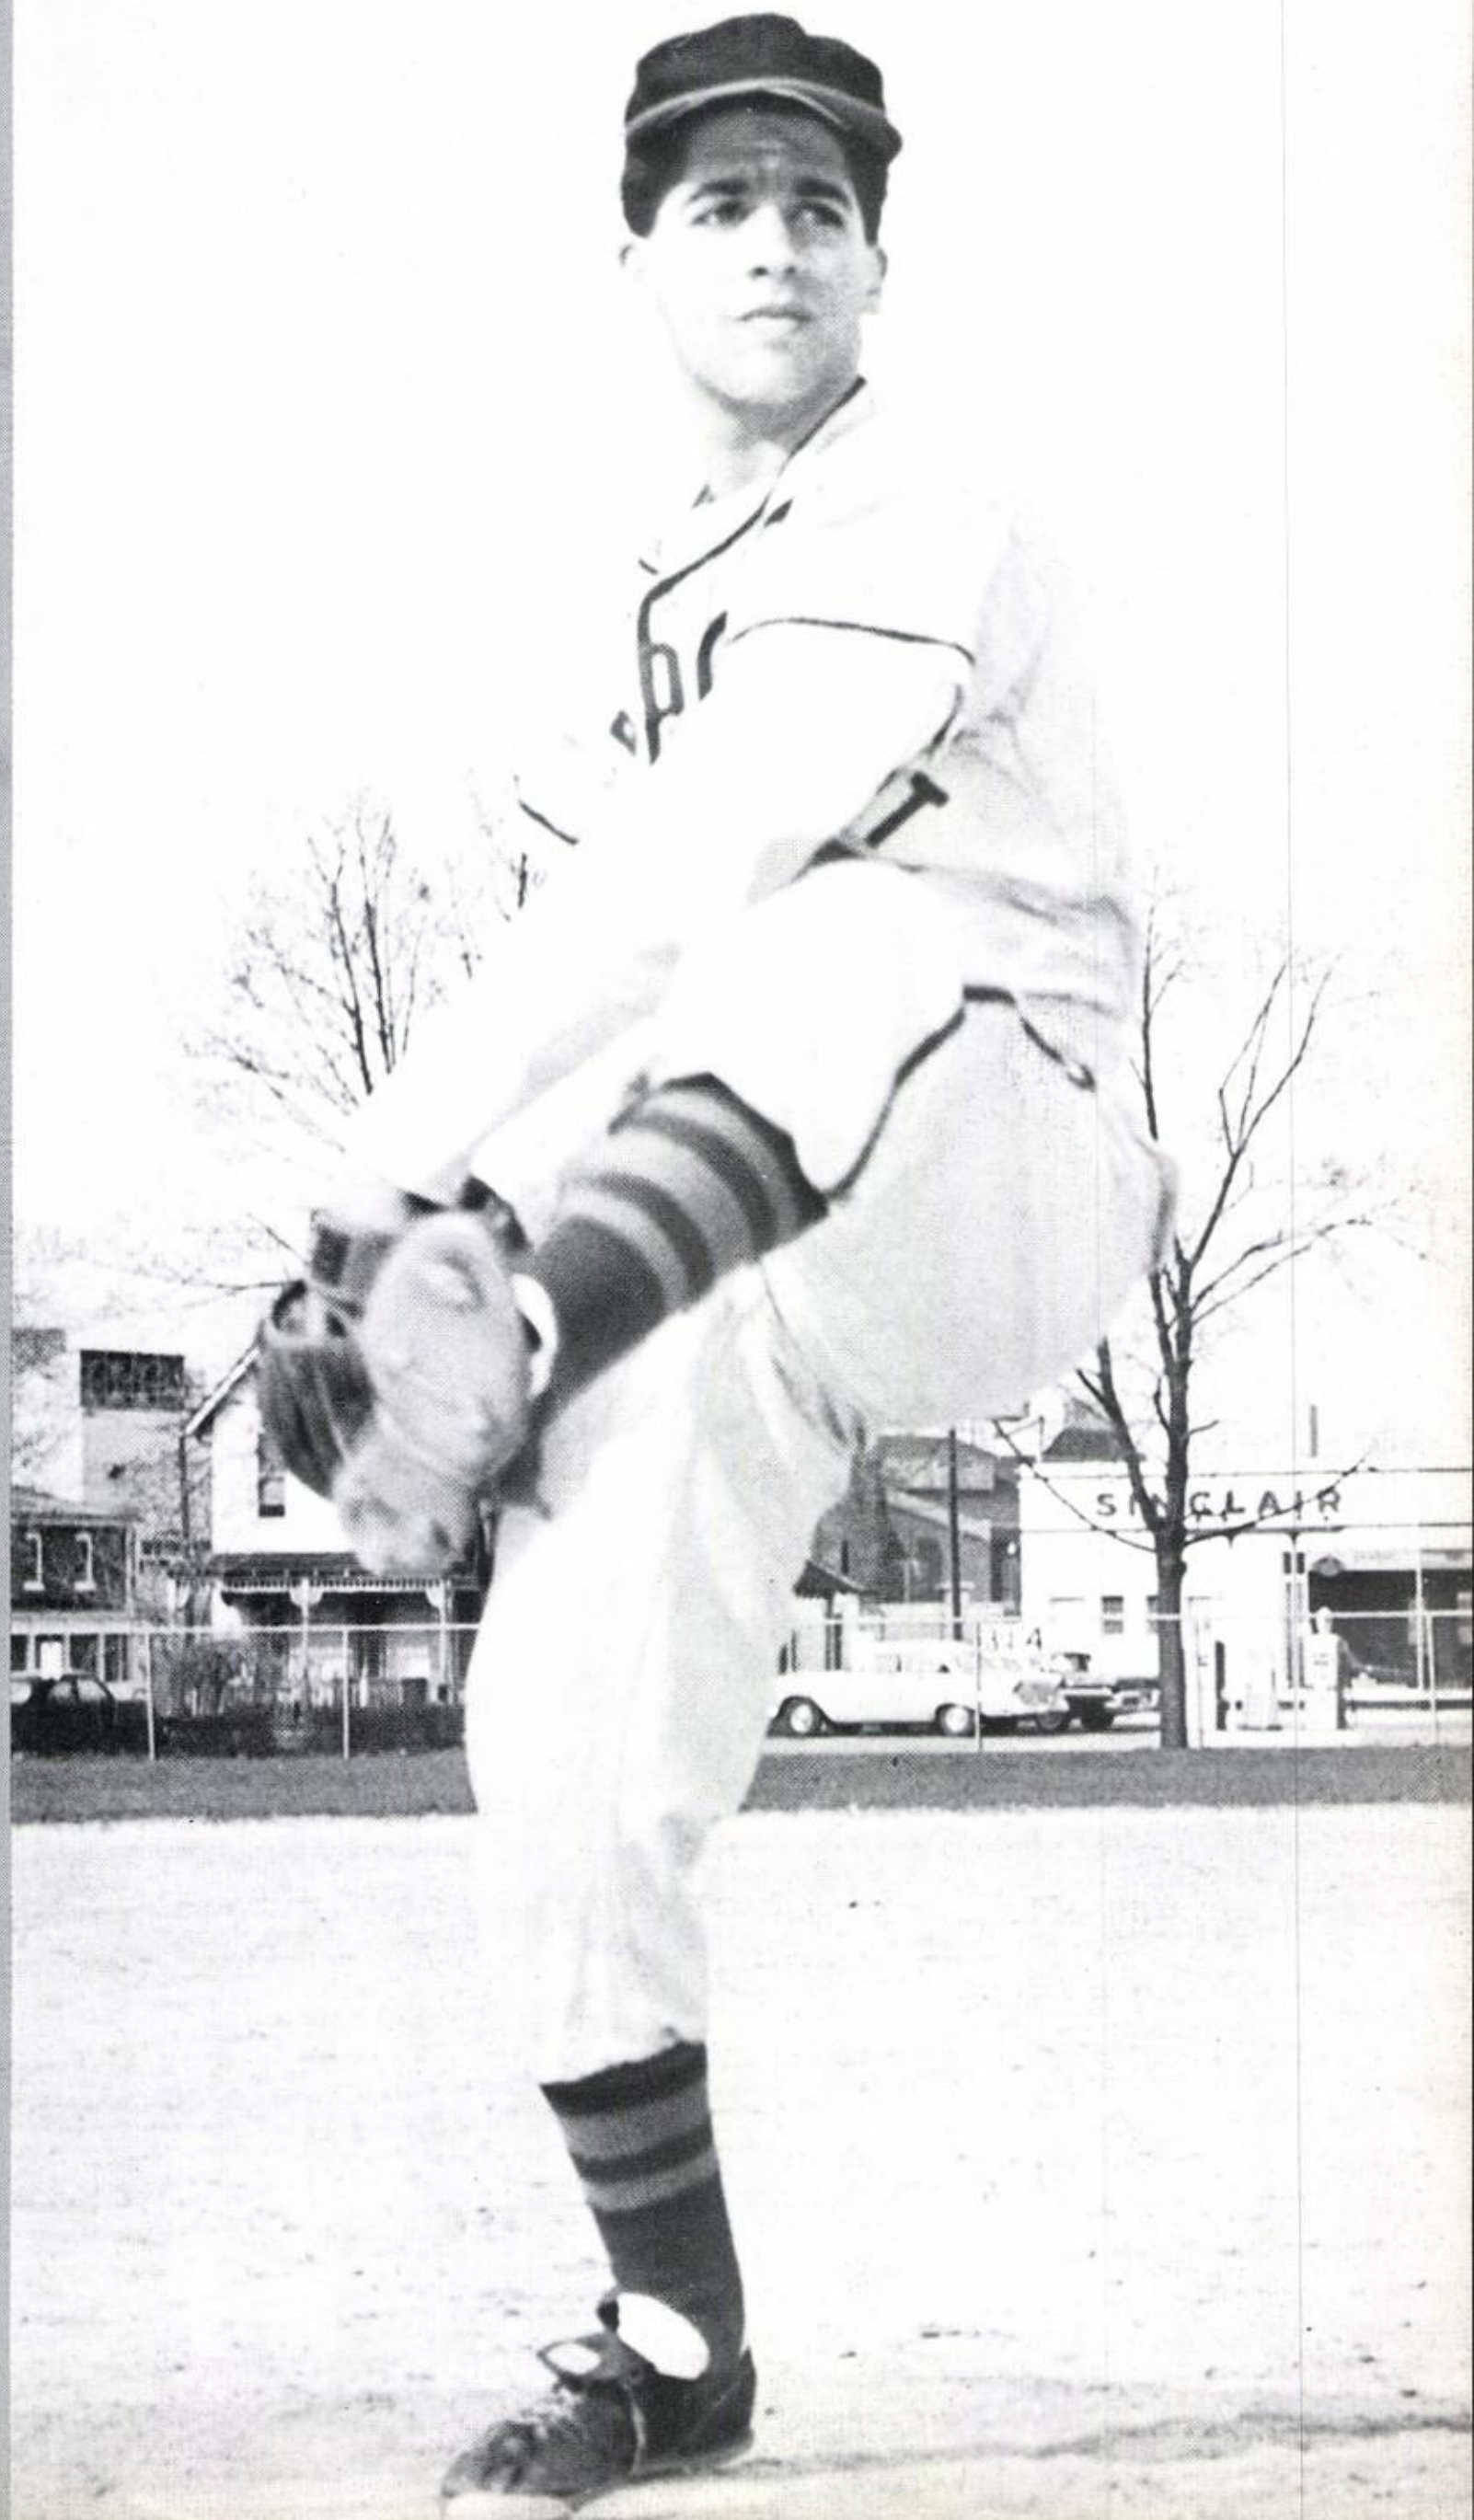

THE JOYOUS SEASON

The call of the wild seems to have affected our sophisticated senior boys. At any rate they're rough and ready for a day's woodchopping.

Alan Cresta shows form on his hook shot.

Alan Cresta gets off a jump shot despite opposition from a host of St. Joseph defenders. Denny Carluzzo looks on anxiously.

Father Reilly tells Ray Bruce and John Woodward, two senior basketball players, and Coach Pierantozzi that it's time for Sacred Heart to have a winning season.

Ron Vinick looks on as Denny Carluzzo puts in two points against Wildwood Catholic.

Here we find our much improved "Hearts" contentedly reviving their string of victories. Dennis Carluzzo, Peter Dyer, Ronald Vinick, John Liss, Alan Cresta, Ronald Jost, John Woodward, Dom Michael, Anthony Pierantozzi, and Ray Bruce share with Coach Pierantozzi and Father Reilly a moment of particular elation over their 49-48 Vineland High victory.

Bob Mullin, Mark Durand, and Leonard O'Neill seem to enjoy the exercise of duck walking in Gym Class.

Basketball or ballet? Interesting question. Tony Pierantozzi seems in the midst of a flying pirouette, while Denny Garluzzo exhibits some interesting toe work.

Coach Pierantozzi obviously enjoys putting these boys through the paces. However, Denny Carluzzo has profited from his push-ups as anyone who observes him on the court can testify.

"Let's go, Sacred Heart"—a familiar cry of our energetic and spirited cheerleaders. Jay Vee cheerleaders are Carol Zarbo, Barbara Marcacci, Pat Ottenger, Lynn Koerner, Carol Focchi and Barbara Pendola. Varsity cheerleaders are Camie Stringari, Lois Zapariello, Donna Marciano, Amina DiPace, captain, Paulette Fava, Linda Ciancarelli and Joyce Egizi.

ALLEGRETTO . . .

Something new has been added to our varsity cheering squad—bright new uniforms. Amina DiPace models her new attire for Sister Ann Winifred.

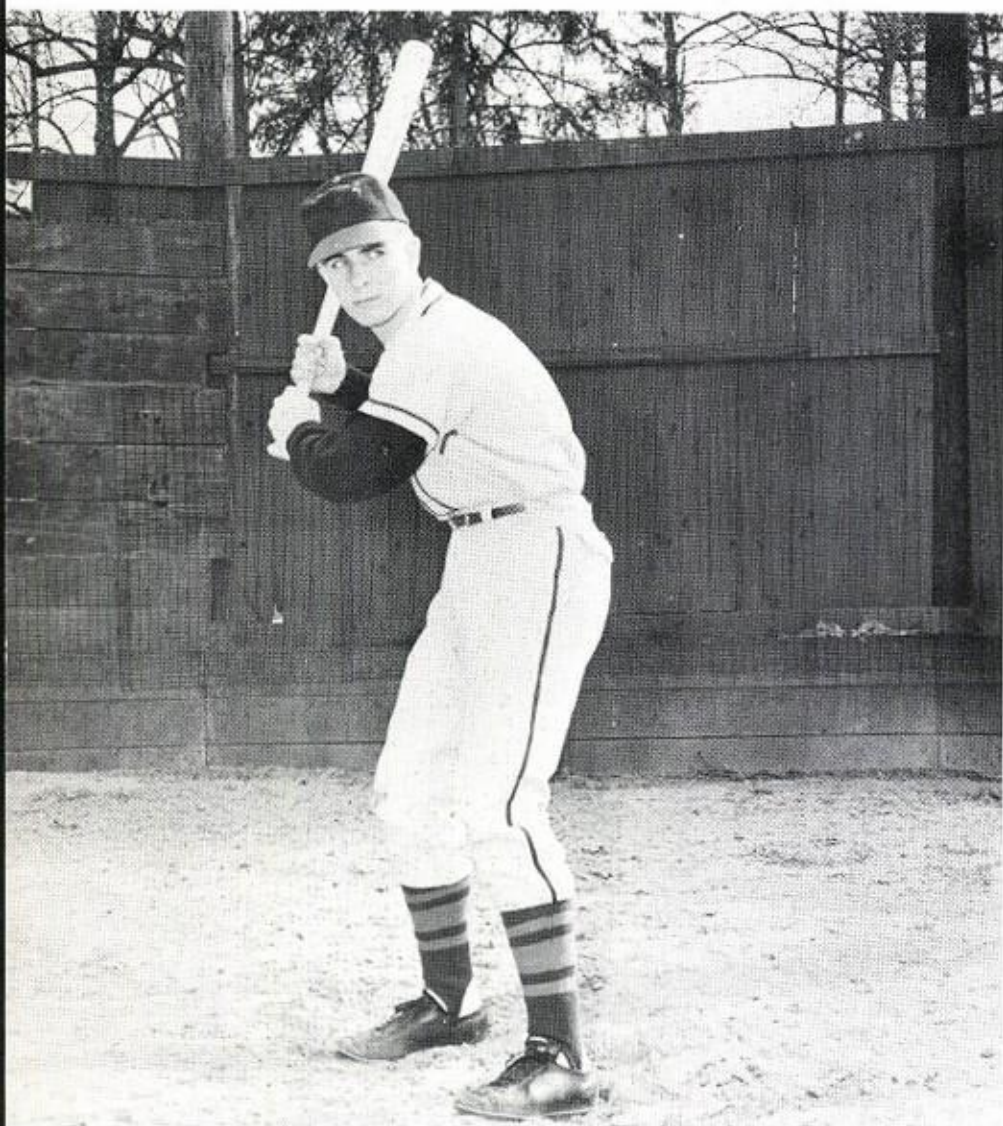

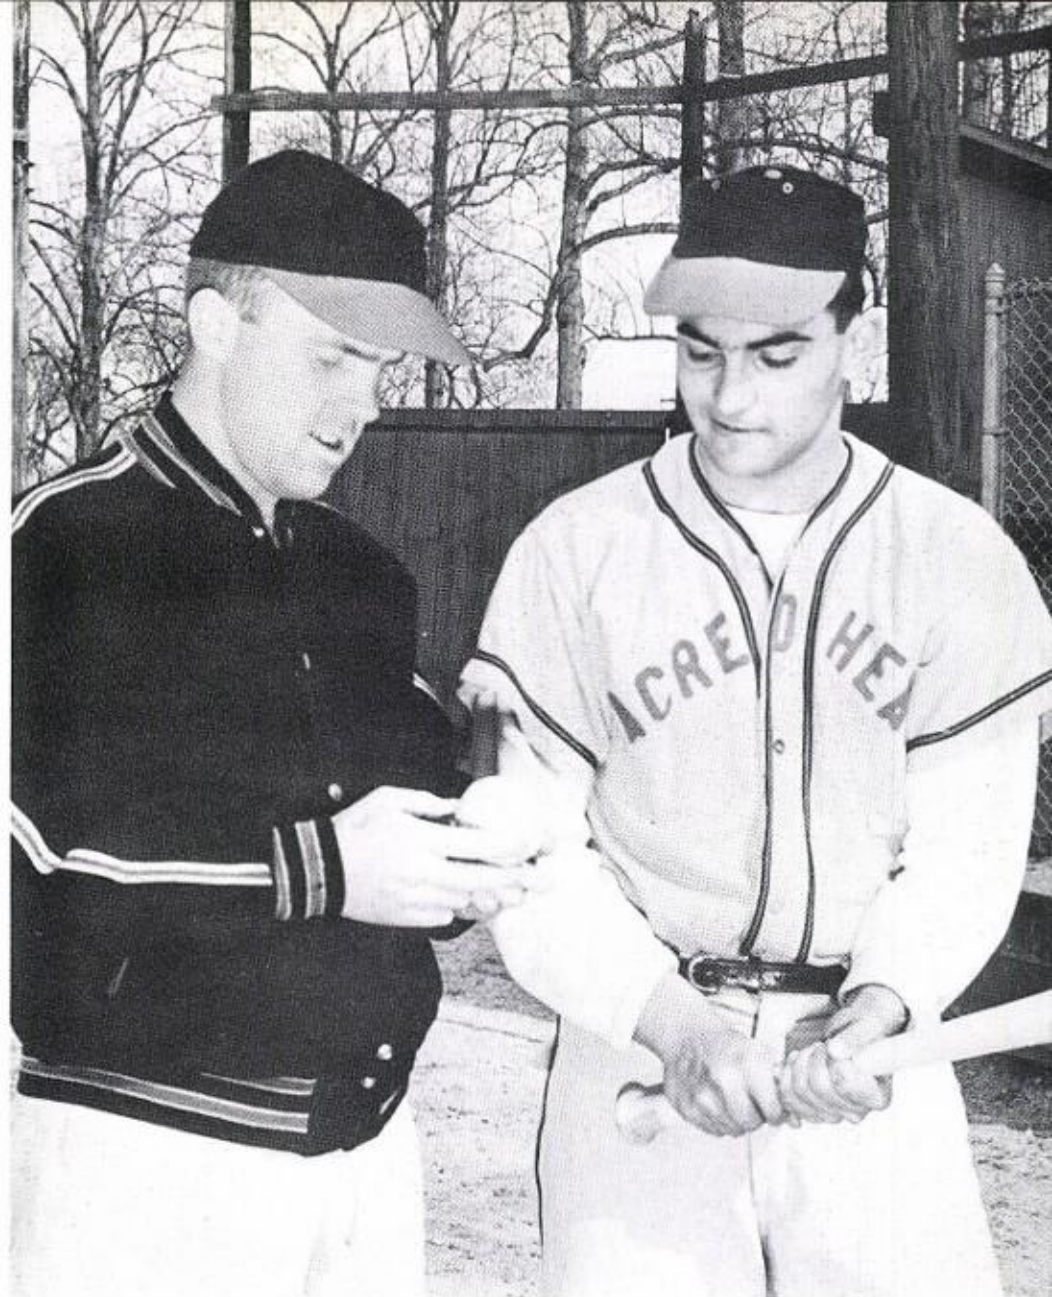

Smiling members of the Girls' Basketball team include Marlene Penza, Jackie Borgo, Kathy Dannenhoffer, Rita Rados, Barbara Lancellotti, Kaaren Riggins, Maureen Ormsby, Peggy Saunders, Joyce Zucca, Nancy Riilo, June Lindenlaub, Gayle Sasdelli, Sue Dawson, Mary O'Rourke, Mary Beth DeBello, manager, Linda Ruth, Martha Halij, and Sandra Goffredi, manager.

. . . TO THE CLOSING MEASURE

Mr. Hatch and the boys smile in anticipation of the coming baseball season. Sitting (left to right) are Frank Martini, Mark Durand, Ron Vinick, Denny Carluzzo, and Coach Hatch. Standing (left to right) are Ray Mills, Pete Dyer, and Jim McClain.
